May 10, 2024

The Honorable Joseph R. Biden
President
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW
Washington, DC 20500

Dear President Biden,

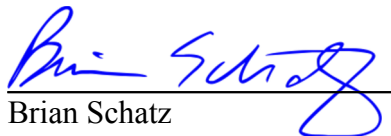

We write as representatives of disaster-impacted states to request that the Administration re-examine and resubmit its request for supplemental disaster recovery funding. Our constituents have a long road to recovery ahead and require federal assistance to recover and rebuild.

Last October, the Administration requested $23.5 billion for disaster recovery. That request included funding for the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Disaster Relief Fund, the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Community Development Block Grant-Disaster Recovery program, the Department of Agriculture's emergency crop loss relief program, the Department of Transportation's Federal Highway Administration emergency relief, the Department of Education's disaster relief, the Small Business Administration's disaster loans, and recovery funding for a number of specific disaster needs across our states. Since then, the need for recovery resources in our communities have grown and evolved. The nation has also witnessed additional crises, including the tragic collapse of the Francis Scott Key Bridge in Maryland. This funding is essential for our constituents to move forward in rebuilding their homes, lives, businesses, farms, and communities.

As such, we request that the Administration reevaluate the nation's outstanding disaster recovery funding requirements and resubmit a request for supplemental appropriations that reflects the current reality. A better understanding of the country's current urgent needs would inform Congress's work and we recommend that the Administration act as quickly as possible.

Thank you for your Administration's ongoing support and for continuing to work with us to provide critical relief to our states.

Sincerely,

Brian Schatz
